

United Crusade Opens Here

Volunteer workers in Washington Township and other communities throughout the Bay Area started forth among their friends, neighbors and fellow workers October 6 to raise $10,245,000 for community services in the first joint Bay Area United Crusade campaign.

They will seek this record sum to finance health, welfare and youth organizations in the East Bay and in San Francisco, San Mateo and Marin Counties. Of the total, $3,242,500 is sought for 155 community services in the 1200-square mile East Bay United Crusade area.

"Give-where-you-work" solicitation began Tuesday in commercial and industrial firms, in small businesses and among public employees and military personnel. The intensive 10-day campaign for on-the-job contributions is scheduled to close October 16.

Then women volunteers will call on those residents of Washington Township and other communities throughout the five-county area who do not contribute through their place of employment, according to Peter D. Juhl, local campaign chairman.

The Township's quota this year is $13,000. Of this sum, $1250 goes this year for the first time to the Council of Southern Alameda County Communities, counselling agency in the family-relations field.

Another $1000 goes to an emergency fund, administered by Edward E. Enos of Niles and designed to provide fast interim relief for distressed families who are burned out of their homes, or who otherwise suffer financial disasters.

Balance of the money goes to the local Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Salvation Army, Travelers' Aid, Irvington and Mission San Jose Youth Centers, etc.

Heading the home solicitation program is Mrs. Bruce Michael of Warm Springs.

2 Flood Curb Votes Wednesday

Zone 3-a Bonds
Total $3,369,000

Alvarado, perennial flood sufferer; and nearby Hillview Crest will ballot Wednesday on a $3,369,000 flood control and storm drainage project.

The project is known as Zone 3-a of the county's Flood Control and Water Conservation District. Blanketed into it are Mt. Eden, Hayward, Tennyson, Alta Vista and Valle Vista.

For Alvarado, the project would provide protection by:

1. Straightening Alameda Creek and strengthening its levees upstream from Smith Street Bridge.
2. Straightening and deepening the channel downstream, and providing another outlet to the Bay.
3. Bolstering levees within Alvarado.

For Hillview Crest, the plan would open up potential tracts and commercial and industrial areas nearby, as well as draining the subdivision.

Cost: less than 50 cents per $100 per year, according to county spokesmen.

Polling places are: Eagles Hall in Alvarado, and a garage at 1618 Lafayette Street, in Hillview Crest. Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

Backers Say Zone 6
Vital to Progress

Southern Washington Township goes to the polls next Wednesday in what experts term a "make-or-break" effort to get flood control and storm drainage.

An estimated 1537 voters in the Irvington-Warm Springs-Mission San Jose region will decide whether to float a $1,743,000 bond issue which would provide ditches, levees and culverts to carry off excess rainwater.

"Until this is done," says Bruce Michael, chairman of a citizens' committee to back the bonds, "we cannot look forward to orderly and profitable progress for our communities."

Michael points out that residential and industrial building in the South Bay's "last frontier" is stymied because (1) county officials won't let in more subdivisions which might flood land below and, (2) industries back away from land subject to periodic floods like those in 1951-52.

Herbert G. Crowle, engineer for the county's Flood Control and Water Conservation District, says of taxes on Zone 6—area involved:

"They will be held under 50 cents per $100 assessed valuation. This means less than 90 cents per month to the average homeowner."

Zone 6 covers an area of 43 square miles, from the Bay tide-flats to Mission Peak, and from the county line to PG&E Road. It has a population of slightly more than 3000, and an assessed value of $7,357,000.

But Crowle and others estimate that it will be fully developed within a measurable time, and then will contain 200,000 people and have an assessed valuation of $150,000,000.

If the bonds fail to pass, Michael warns, the project would have to be financed directly from taxes, which would be considerably higher than under the bonds.

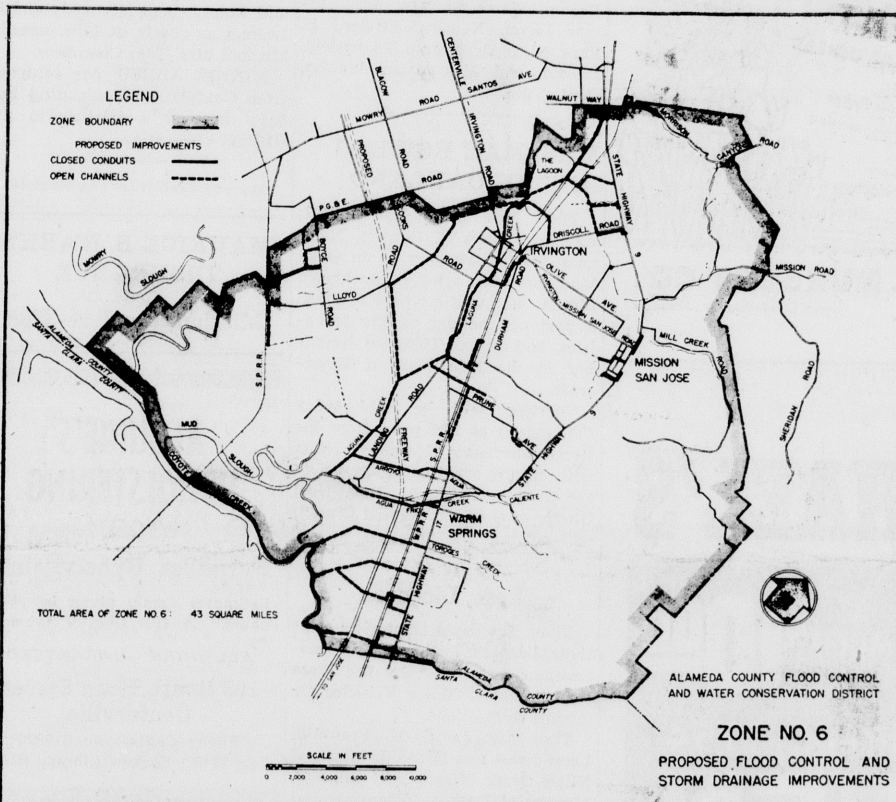

Wednesday's polling places are the Mission San Jose firehouse, and the Irvington and Warm Springs schools. Polls are open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m.

RHEEM CURTAINS PRODUCTION HERE

Rheem Manufacturing Co.'s big Wedgewood Stove plant at Newark entered its third week of reduced production today, with a 4-day week in effect for most of its workers, and a "slightly" reduced night shift.

Conrad Wahlquist, personnel manager, blamed the cuts on the retail sales picture. But he said he is unable to predict how much longer the reductions will continue in effect.

Wahlquist stressed the factory hopes to hold layoffs to a minimum by the four-day week. He added: "We produced full-steam for the past three months, but it turned out the sales picture didn't justify our optimism."

HERE IT IS—Map shows extent of flood control Zone 6, on which residents of South Township will vote next Wednesday, October 14. Included are Irvington, Warm Springs and Mission San Jose. Dotted lines indicate fenced drainage canals to be built over period of several years with portion of $1,743,000 bond money; solid lines (mostly in Mission) are underground conduits.

MERCHANTS MEET

Niles businessmen, members of the Merchants Committee of the local Chamber of Commerce, will meet Friday noon in Nello's to discuss a cleanup campaign and further advertising for their town.

OIL WEEK

John Taber and A. W. Clark, local petroleum products distributors, are committeemen here for Oil Progress Week, October 11-17.

Executive to Speak

Richard L. Rosenthal of New York, president of the nationwide Citizens' Utilities Company, will address the Niles Rotary Club today at noon on the topic "The Incentive State vs. The Parental State."

Rosenthal, who is 38, heads the company which supplies water to Niles and Decoto.

DEMOS MEET

Next meeting of the Township Democratic Club will be October 16 at 8:15 p.m. in the county building. It will feature an address by Supervisor Chester E. Stanley.

STILL SHUT DOWN

The big U.S. Pipe & Steel plant near Decoto entered the third week of shutdown today in a dispute between management and the CIO.

United Crusade

Fund Campaign Starts in Township With Industry, Business Covered

The United Crusade already is in full swing in Washington Township, local workers reported Tuesday at a kickoff luncheon in the International Kitchen.

Oscar Dowe, representing Pacific States Steel Corp., told the lunchers a "two-buck-a-month" club is being formed in an effort to surpass the $5000-plus contribution of the huge Niles plant in 1952.

Don DeForest said Kimber Farms solicitation "is 75 per cent complete," and John McDonald of Kraft reported workers there have contributed "an average of $18 per man" with 65 per cent of donations tallied.

McDonald reminded that Kraft management matches worker donations.

Campaign Chairman Peter D. Juhl called on a dozen more toil-ers for reports, and Edward E. Enos, Niles postmaster, who heads the speakers' bureau, declared:

1. No Red Cross solicitation will be held in the Township this year—the Red Cross has joined the Crusade 100 per cent.

2. The East Bay's goal is slightly more than one-third of the Bay Area Crusade quota of $10,000,000. This is the first year of the Bay Crusade, Enos pointed out, insuring that a major portion of contributions made at work in San Francisco, for instance, will return to the home community of the donor.

Harry Weber, business chairman, said his solicitation will be finished by October 19, when the residential drive commences.

Mrs. Bruce Michael, residential campaign chairman, announced three training sessions for house-to-house workers. They are:

October 12, 8 p.m., Hillview Crest school.

October 14, 8 p.m., Irvington School.

October 15, 8 p.m., County Building.

Other reports came from Jack McDonald, school chairman; and Harlee Bradley and J. A. Ratekin, industrial chiefs.

TRIPLE SESSIONS TREAT IN DECOTO

An enrollment of 2700 pupils, making triple sessions necessary in Decoto Schools, was predicted within the next three years by Supt. Harold Schoenfeld, in a plea to the local Chamber of Commerce Tuesday.

Dr. Schoenfeld declared that his three schools already have more than 1400 students, and that population trends point to double the enrollment within a short time. Several lower grades already are on double sessions.

Dr. Schoenfeld asked the chamber to consider a $150,000 bond issue and a $1,500,000 loan from the State, and members promised to consider the issue the measure at their next meeting.

Where's the Fire?

Saturday, October 3, Niles, 10:30 p.m., motorcycle, First Street.

Sunday, October 4, Decoto, 8:30 p.m., residence, Ontario Place.

Monday, October 5, Centerville, 8:30 a.m., hay stack at Thornton Avenue and Dondero.

Monday, October 5, Warm Springs, 6:15 p.m., grass fire at Murphy Ranch.

Tuesday, October 6, Decoto, 7:35 p.m., grass fire on Whipple Road.

ENDORSE ZONES

Endorsement of Flood Zone 3-a and speedy establishment of Zone 5 was voted Tuesday by the Decoto Chamber of Commerce.

NEWARK TRUSTEES SEEK JR. HI UNIT

A "junior-junior high school" system for Newark was announced this week by the district's Board of School Trustees.

Supt. Jack MacGregor said the trustees scanned a survey conducted by the architectural firm of Falk & Booth and its consultant, Dr. Alfred Christiansen, then decided:

1. A central upper-grade school, taking in the 7th and 8th grades, will be built for the district.

Other schools, including the present one and future ones, will contain kindergartens and grades one through six.

MacGregor said the board reasoned that other districts in the State make available homemaking, shop and crafts to students in the 7th and 8th grades. Therefore, they said, this should be done in Newark, and can best be done in a separate, central school.

Permission of the State Department of Education now is being sought for the "Newark Master Plan," MacGregor added.

If approved, he said, the Board plans to proceed with the purchase of a site and construction of the next school unit. The present single school already has an enrollment of 670, or 100 more than it was designed for. Potential building in the area makes another school imperative at once, the superintendent explained.

The primary - through - sixth grade schools would be located as "neighborhood schools," MacGregor went on, and would be built "on smaller sites and as close to the homes of the children as possible to conserve bus transportation."

Firemen's Ball

Niles firemen were ready today for their annual benefit ball, to be held Saturday night in the Newark Pavilion.

Asst. Chief Caesar Di Giulio, in charge of arrangements, bids the public welcome to the affair. Music will be by Ralph Garner and his orchestra.

LAST WORD (MEBBE) IN FIRE DISPUTE

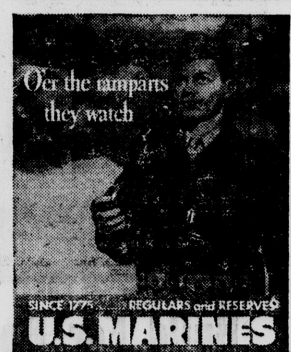

Newark fire insurance rates eventually may become lower than Centerville's for Glenmoor Gardens—but they aren't now.

This was the report Monday to the Centerville Chamber of Commerce from James R. Meyer, developer of Glenmoor.

Newark's fire district boundary cuts the westernmost five homes in Glenmoor away from Centerville. This has caused a heated exchange of notes between Centerville fire officials and Newark's chief, Joe Paschote. Meyer acknowledged that Paschote is correct that Newark's overall rates are lower than Centerville's, principally because Newark has three fulltime firemen. But, said Meyer, Glenmoor is in Zone 1 of Centerville and Zone 2 of Newark—and Newark Zone 2 rates are a trifle higher than Centerville Zone 1.

Meyer said Glenmoor is in Centerville Zone 1 because it is barely a mile from the firehouse there.

Paschote has petitioned to get the Newark segment of Glenmoor into Newark Zone 1, Meyer said, but this request hasn't been granted yet.

DECOTO SCHOOLS OPEN REC PROGRAM

Decoto's public schools started the second year of their community recreation program last week on three school playgrounds, hoping to duplicate or exceed the success of the first year.

Alfred Pinard, recreation supervisor under the school-sponsored program, announced the following playground "leaders":

1. Hillview Crest, Elliott Betts, USC graduate and San Jose State graduate student.

2. Decoto School, Ben Riffle, eighth grade teacher at Barnard School.

3. Barnard, John Dewey, seventh grade teacher at Barnard who helped develop several successful athletic teams from that school last year.

Pinard said nearly 6000 youngsters took part in the program during the 1952-53 school year. One goal this year, according to Pinard, will be to graduate 90 youngsters from a Junior Red Cross first-aid course which is tied-in to local Civil Defense programs. The course will be given at Barnard School.

2 NAMED TO FILL NORRIS POSTS

Appointment of Allen G. Norris to the superior bench this week caused shifts in two community agencies in Centerville.

Judge Norris resigned his trusteeship of the local school district, which he had held for more than two decades; and also his fire commissioner's job, in which he served for 26 years.

County Supt. of Schools Vaughn D. Seidel thereupon named Claire Lopez, Leslie Salt Company executive, to the school post. Lopez is a longtime Centerville resident, has two children, and has been active in youth work and in St. James Episcopal Church duties.

For the fire post, remaining commissioners this week nominated John Dutra, retired electrician and World War I veteran. Dutra's nomination went to the Board of Supervisors Monday, according to Fred Rogers, chairman of the commission.

David Fairchild, the botanist largely responsible for planting the flowering cherry trees in Washington, was born April 7, 1862.

TOWN, PLANNERS STILL APART ON NEWARK ZONING

Nothing held up agreement between the Newark Chamber of Commerce and the County Planning Commission this week except a two-block strip of land west of town.

The land—now earmarked industrial—is located between Spruce and Maple Streets, and the Southern Pacific tracks and the Hetch-Hetchy right-of-way.

Chamber spokesmen, led by Gordon Cotton, want it left for industry. But at last week's commission meeting, commissioners voted to recommend it be rezoned for homes.

It was apparently the last stumbling block to rezoning of the town which started last spring, and which already has been bounced back to the commission by the Supervisors.

Commission staff members several weeks ago were rebuffed when Cotton and industry representatives prevailed on the Supervisors to toss the staff recommendations back for rehearing.

Changes then were made which, for the most part, appeared to satisfy the factories and the Newark Chamber. Last week the final hearing showed agreement on the Haley Road area, with light industrial zoning now recommended by the commission along the SP tracks there, extending 600 feet south.

Around the Westvaco plant, residential zoning was pushed east from Willow Street. But Cotton wanted this restored to its original line, at Spruce. Two landowners, represented by Attorney LeRoy Broun, however, persuaded the commissioners to "compromise" and split the difference, resulting in the boundary at Maple.

Meantime, Commission Secretary John Jay Thomas interposed this was bad zoning, since it places heavy industry next to residences. But Commissioner George Dugan pressed successfully for the compromise.

The Supervisors are slated to

Mission Zone Confab Inconclusive; One More is Set for November 3

Mission San Jose's protective zoning, sought by some residents to preserve the early California flavor of the 155-year-old community, went forward at a leisurely pace—if at all—this week.

A public meeting with County planning experts brought no new developments or suggestions from some 40 persons present.

Arguments against specific proposals were heard only from Francis Howe, electrical-plant owner; and Miss Olive Hyde, operator of a gift shop. Concluding the session in the local grammar school, County Planning Director John J. Thomas suggested "another meeting at which specific issues could be raised to bring you closer to the zoning your chamber of commerce asked for."

On recommendation of Roy Dean, chairman of the town zoning committee, President Herman Medeiros set this meeting for November 3.

Thomas unveiled a zoning map which he said incorporated the wishes expressed to date at planner-chamber confabs.

Thomas and an aide, Sanford Farness, explained the map. It shows:

1. A compact central business district southwest of the Irvington Road intersection with Highway 9.
2. Eight neighborhood "centers" built around schools.
3. Half-acre, or larger, home-sites in the hills and spacious, 4-to-an-acre sites on the flat ground bordering the Irvington Road.
4. Strips along the highway from Vine to Pine Streets and just north of the Irvington Road intersection zoned for apartments.

Miss Hyde complained that the county is planning a 4-lane highway on this road, which she said would "ruin" the town. She said this is supposed to be because the State wants the Irvington Road for a future highway, but she added her conversation with state highway officials have failed to substantiate this.

Dean advised the audience to "take these ideas home and think about them" before the November 3 meeting.

Thomas agreed, and stressed that only "one-twentieth of the unincorporated area of the county is zoned now, and the supervisors probably won't zone any more until they have a strong community endorsement."

"You will have to have overwhelming approval of some plan of land use before taking it to the commission and the supervisors

Suggest Three-Town 'City'

Centerville Joins Irvington In Boundary Protest

Centerville this week joined Irvington in its protest against "land-grabs"—real or fancied—on the part of Newark.

And one influential member of the Centerville Chamber of Commerce hinted broadly that if Newark doesn't want to become a city with the rest of the township, that three or four other towns ought to go it alone.

The chamber voted to back an Irvington resolution condemning "encroachment" on its school district's assessed values. Eugene Manning pointed out that Centerville and Newark are currently disputing their fire district boundaries where they meet in the midst of Glenmoor Gardens.

Newark's moves toward separate cityhood provoked the storm.

LeRoy Broun, arch-advocate of Township Incorporation, suggested a three-town city composed of Centerville, Niles and Irvington. He said all are "developed" and have sanitation, etc., and that the Coro report showed they are capable of becoming cities.

However, Broun said, he wants to "leave the door open for Newark to join" if the town wants to.

On Manning's motion, Centerville members voted to "let Irvington know we're with them in principle, if not in every detail," and "that we will cooperate with them in resisting encroachment of any town on the assessed valuation of any other."

To this Broun added: "And we further state that if and when incorporation takes place, it be on the basis of a larger unit than any one school district."

Judge Allen G. Norris warned however that Townshippers may be wrong in insisting—as Irvington does—that school districts are natural boundaries. Said he: "I think geography and business attachments are more natural."

Lee Williams said he thinks this might throw boundary lines into "a free-for-all," with every town grabbing at once.

"When it comes to incorporation," said he, "it'll be a matter of give and take."

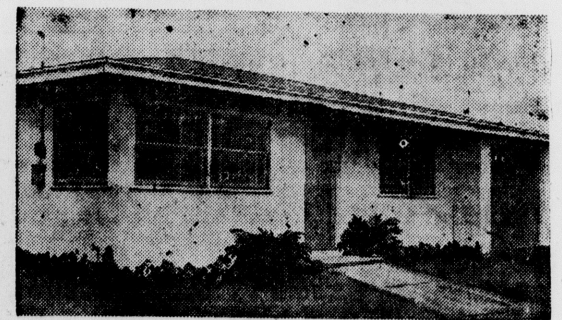

A. E. Alameda pointed out that Newark Chamber members have stated they want to make their city limits "the school district or fire district, which ever is the larger," and that the Newark fire district overlaps the Irvington school district by a considerable margin.

It was this possibility that started the ruckus two weeks ago at the Irvington Chamber.

A social hour was enjoyed before the meeting was called to order by Chairman Mrs. E. E. Huddleson.

Mr. Brownfield is employed at the E. J. Lavino Co. in Newark and Mrs. Brownfield works at the Peerless Grill in Niles at night, where she may be contacted if you have a yard (with house) for rent where children are welcome.

20-30 MEN, WIVES VIE IN PROJECTS

Two 20-30 Club projects occurring almost simultaneously will have the young service club members competing with their wives to see who comes off with top honors in community service.

One project, which makes use of the ladies' culinary talents, will be a food sale, planned for Saturday morning, October 17, at the Niles Gift Shop, 613 First Street.

Co-chairmen of the project, Mrs. Wayne Davis and Mrs. Alvin Rose, promise that all foods sold will be home-made and attractively priced. Funds will be turned over to the 20-30 Club and are to be earmarked for the benefit of needy children in the Township.

Not to be outdone by the wives, the men have undertaken arrangements with Ted Tully of the Niles Theater, and are sponsoring a Saturday matinee on October 24, at which a first run film, "Column South," starring Audie Murphy, will be shown.

Special tickets to sell for 50c have been printed and will be sold during the next three weeks by the Boy Scouts of Niles Troop 2.

George Silva, chairman of the program, says:

"Every effort is being made to insure a sellout. Several cartoons plus the action-packed film make it a wonderful program for the kids, and the Boy Scouts have a chance to earn some needed expense money for the troop."

Zoning Asked

Commercial zoning for a highway strip south of Niles was sought Tuesday before the local chamber of commerce.

A petition presented by Mrs. Keith Comfort, landowner in the region, asked that a 400-foot-deep commercial zone be established "from the Mission Sanitarium to a point 400 feet south of Morrison Canyon Road."

The petition was signed by 38 property owners in the strip, and 49 neighbors.

Chamber President C. W. Chrysler tabled the petition until the group meets later this month with county planners to map zoning for the entire Niles area.

Unique Furniture Store Planned For Famed Mission Powerhouse

The old red brick powerhouse the Bay Area used to plunge into darkness.

Chrysler purchased the property for an undisclosed sum from F. J. Brackendorf.

He announced he will remodel the ancient building, preserving its antique air, to provide a suitable setting for colonial maple and similar furniture lines. The building contains 12,000 square feet.

Work already is underway to surface a parking area. The existing filling station will be retained, Chrysler said; and also will be remodeled. So will a two-story house on the rear of the site.

Chrysler will retain his present store in Niles in addition to the new one in Mission San Jose.

Before it was abandoned in 1921, when the PG&E's Newark switchyard was built, the Mission powerhouse channeled all PG&E hydroelectric power for the Peninsula and East Bay.

Its crude circuit-breakers were no more than tubs of oil, and when they would fail, whole sections of

FATIMA RITES IN MISSION OCT. 18

More than 6000 Catholic clergy and devout laymen from the Bay Area are expected to take part in prayers for world peace on October 18 in the solemn and colorful Fatima Day rites at the Novitiate of the Sisters of the Holy Family in Mission San Jose.

The ceremony will be the fourth annual one, and each year has attracted more participants who come to beseech the Mother of God for an end to wars.

The beautiful statue of Our Lady of Fatima will be carried through the extensive gardens of the Novitiate, preceded by priests, nuns, Catholic schoolgirls and uniformed groups of laymen.

The procession begins at 2:30 p.m. Guest speaker of the day will be the Rev. Thomas N. O'Kane, pastor of St. Vincent de Paul Church in San Francisco.

Father O'Kane formerly was pastor at Holy Ghost Church in Centerville.

Sister Mary Borromea is in charge of the ceremonies. Ample parking space will be provided for the expected crowds, and loudspeakers will carry the words of the clergy over the grounds.

The rites will conclude with a benediction of the Blessed Sacrament.

'OVER HILL' TOWNS CONFER ON ZONE 5

While Washington Township votes on flood curbs for its northern and southern extremities Wednesday, Livermore and Pleasanton will decide whether to test public opinion on a third zone which would link the two.

This is Zone 5 of the county Flood Control and Water Conservation District, which was blocked last January by a clique of hillside ranchers outside Livermore.

City councils of Livermore and Pleasanton will meet Monday night to examine the issue and decide whether to call a vote on joining Zone 5.

Centerville, Niles and possibly Newark already are willing to “go it alone” to get flood control without their neighbors “over the hill.”

But ranchers here want to have Livermore and Pleasanton join, if possible, to provide upstream water storage.

The zone must be formed before February if it is to get on the 1954-5 tax rolls. The city votes would satisfy a State requirement that urban opinion be polled before the Supervisors can form the Zone—as they did for the Irvington and Alvarado areas last year.

Civil War Subject of Historical Society

Township servicemen in the Civil War will be the topic October 15 before the Washington Township Historical Society when the group meets at 8 p.m. in the Washington Hi faculty dining room.

Speaker will be Col. N. W. Armstrong, county development secretary, who urges oldtimers to bring mementoes of the War Between The States to the meeting.

One relic slated to be on hand is the battle flag of an Alvarado militia unit, now in possession of the Hayward Parlor of the Native Sons of the Golden West. The Township Legion Post has been invited to attend, according to Mrs. J. C. Shinn, society president.

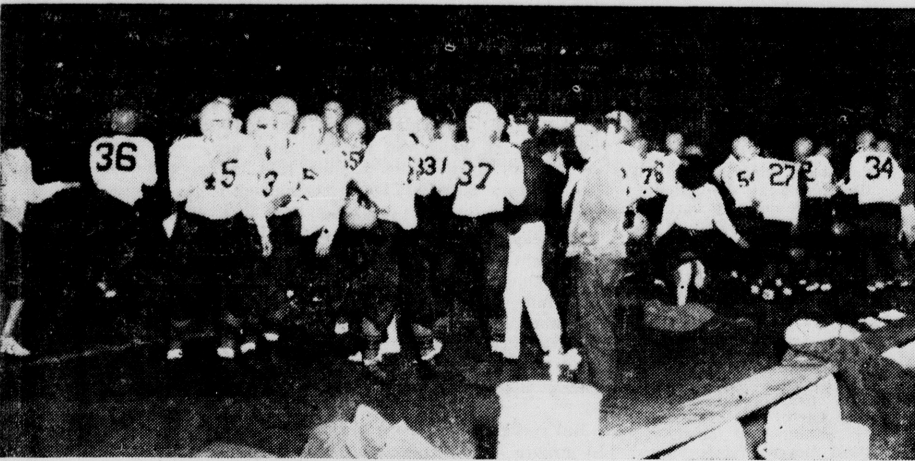

At the peak of the California canning season, the industry employs 96,000 persons.

RANGEL WANGLES 2 SCORES TO HELP PUPS WIN, 12-7

Washington Hi Puppies, running from the new "T" formation, picked up two touchdowns in the first half and held their lead for the remainder of the contest as they edged the Poly Hi Frosh-Sophs from San Francisco, 12-7, last Friday night.

The Junior Huskies, under the direction of Gene Johnson, picked up their first score early in the first period when Fullback Tino Rangel intercepted a pass on the Poly 15 and scampered into the end-zone untouched.

The Puppies widened the margin to 12-0 midway in the second period when Quarterback Bob Hird hit Rangel with a short pass on the Poly 10 and Rangel again twisted his way to pay dirt.

The Puppies open their league season tomorrow evening when they play host to the Los Gatos B eleven. Kickoff is set for 6 p.m.

Score by quarters:
Husky Bs 6 0 0 12
Poly Bs 0 7 0 7

Honor Young Baptists

Young People of the First Baptist Church of Newark tied for the attendance banner at the Youth Rally held last week in Oakland. As the Newark group has won the banner more times than any other, they now have permanent possession.

On Tuesday, youth groups of the First Baptist Church of Newark, Hillview Baptist Church of Decoto, and the First Baptist Church of Pleasanton, enjoyed a skating social at Maple Roller Rink in Irvington.

Theta Rho Party

Theta Rho Girls Virginia Lammi and Valeria Correia were hostesses last Sunday afternoon at the Red Cross Recreation Hall at Camp Parks. They were accompanied by Rebekah members, Mrs. Sylvia Lammi, Mrs. Minnie Clay and Mrs. Leona Krueger.

The Rebekahs provided the cakes which were taken to four of the wards and the recreation hall. Mrs. Ruby Alberts donated four African Violet plants for the hall.

Menagerie Notes

A new arrival in Newark last week was an 18-month-old chimpanzee, who stopped at Norma Snow Willburn's home and inquired for a room to rent. The next day three seals arrived. They are now happily housed at Fairyland in Oakland with the Homer Snow Animal Show.

CHAMBER MEETING

The Centerville Chamber of Commerce will meet October 19 for its annual luncheon in the high school faculty dining room. Committeeman A. E. Alameda announced Monday.

SCHOOL ORCHESTRA

4 SCVAL ELEVENS DROP OPENERS

Santa Clara Valley Athletic football elevens found their season openers rugged last week. Only three of the seven loop teams were victorious in their initial test.

Washington, Fremont and Santa Clara came out on the long end of their contests.

The Huskies handed the Poly Hi Reserves a 13-7 defeat; Fremont upset favored Hollister, 24-12; and Santa Clara surprised Santa Cruz, 12-6.

Campbell's Buccaneers, pre-season favorites to cop the SCVAL flag, found Castlemon of Oakland too much to handle and the Knights pasted them, 18-6.

Mt. View was blasted 33-13 by the Jefferson eleven, as the boys from Daly City racked up three TDs in the final period.

Menlo-Atherton of the PAI handed Los Gatos a 16-10 licking on the Cat's home field.

The James Lick Comets rounded out the role for the defeated SCVAL teams as they came out on the short end three times in the San Jose City Prep Football Jamboree.

All SCVAL teams except Fremont, which drew a bye, open their league season tomorrow. The schedule:

James Lick at Santa Clara.
Mt. View at Campbell.
Los Gatos at Washington.

Alvarado Mothers Club Holds First Meeting

First fall meeting of the Alvarado Mothers Club was held last Thursday afternoon with a large attendance of both members and teachers.

The group has purchased $200 worth of playground equipment which will be placed on the school grounds when it arrives. They also will sponsor a pastry booth at St. Anne's annual bazaar to be held this week-end.

The monthly card party is held on the third Thursday of each month, the next one to be on October 15 in the school auditorium.

No definite plans have been made for the halloween party for the children.

Meetings are to be altered with afternoon and evening meetings. Next will be November 5 at 7:30.

At Picnic

The Johnny Freitas, the Bud Kettman and the Herb Lacey families attended the Friden Calculating Machine Company picnic.

Meeting to Form New Boy Scout Troop

Efforts are being made to form a badly-needed second Boy Scout troop in Centerville. The present troop, No. 1, headed by Scoutmaster Philip Brazil, is overcrowded, and already 32 boys have signed up for the new organization, Troop No. 2.

At a meeting last Wednesday, Louis Cardoza was chosen as troop committee chairman and Dr. Merle Buehler, Joseph Allen, Joseph Amaral, William Clark, Elmer Meyer, Stebler Loze and Val Tuchen were appointed committeemen.

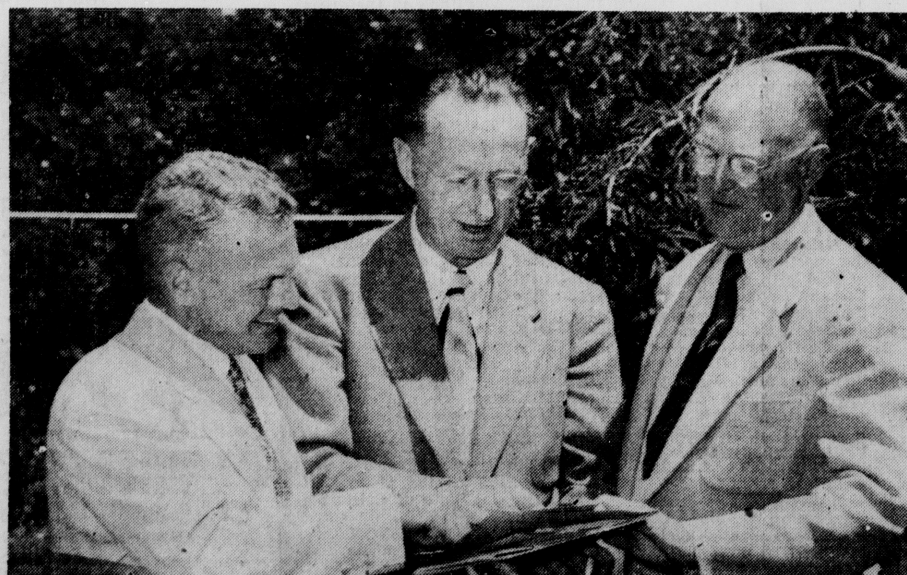

A special meeting is called for October 14 in the Centerville Elementary School at 8 p.m. for parents of boys interested in Scouting. Purpose: obtaining more committeemen and selecting a scoutmaster. St. James Men's Club will sponsor the new troop. Troop No. 1 is sponsored by the Lions Club.

Home After Vacation

Mrs. Carl Mohn of Niles returned home Saturday after a two-month vacation visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Beckers, in Rapid City, South Dakota, and other relatives in North Dakota and Minnesota.

Mr. Mohn also vacationed there but returned home a month ago when unexpected surgery detained Mrs. Mohn.

Olk's Passes Give Huskies 13-7 Win Over Poly; Eye Cats in Opener

By BOB HIRD

The Huskies of Washington Hi, preparing for their first league encounter tomorrow night against Los Gatos, scored a 13-7 win over San Francisco Poly's reserve eleven last Friday on the local gridiron.

The Orange and Black, running from their new "Split A" formation, showed flashes of strength in defeating the Parrot reserves, but will have to improve to beat the rugged 'Cats. The Los Gatosans eked out a 7-6 win over the Malemutes last season.

In last Friday's contest it was the passing and running of Quarterback Allan Olk which led the Huskies to victory. The lanky converted end, not scheduled for much action due to an injured knee, nevertheless passed for one touchdown, and consistently ripped off chunks of yardage through the Parrot line.

The Huskies picked up their first tally early in the second period via the air route. With the ball on the Poly 30, Olk passed to End Carl Von Euw, who made a spectacular grab for the ball, and was dropped immediately on the Poly one. Two plays later Olk jump-passed to End Craig Bellati for the six points. Art Goularte added the extra marker.

The Parrots quickly knotted the contest. Quarterback Ed Burns completed a pass to End Jim Lane on the Husky's 48 and Lane scampered all the way for the TD. Burns scored the extra point on a quarterback sneak.

Neither team scored in the third period although the Huskies did reach the Parrot 5-yard line midway in the period, mainly through Olk's passing and running. Fumbling by both teams choked off the scoring.

The tie-breaking touchdown came early in the final period, when Fullback Dan Rodarte took a handoff and shot straight up the middle 46 yards for a touchdown. Goularte missed the extra point.

Olk and Von Euw were outstanding on offense for the locals, while Frank Velarde shone on defense. Coach Clyde Voorhees' "Split A," which differed from the "T" only in that the quarterback isn't handed the ball, clicked more often than not, and may prove a threat as its practitioners gain experience.

Tomorrow night's contest between the Huskies and Wildcats (whose colors also are Orange and Black), ought to be a rough one. Last year's contest ended in a bitter slugfest between the two teams and has not been forgotten by the returning lettermen on each club.

Los Gatos is rated as a possible dark horse in this year's league. The Cats have only four returning veterans but one of them is Chuck

SEWALKS OKEHEH BY DECOTO C. OF C.

Members of the Decoto Chamber of Commerce Tuesday night voted to back their sidewalk committee's attempts to get paving for the entire town.

The committee had been criticized by a former Chamber prexy, Jack Faletti, for "exceeding its instructions."

Chamber President Manuel Hidalgo said committeemen have obtained signatures of 543 property owners on both sides of the railroad tracks asking formation of an improvement district to build the sidewalks. Just 571 are needed before the petition can be presented to the Board of Supervisors.

voters in the Irvington - Mission San Jose - Warm Springs Area will vote on whether they want the County to float a $1,743,000 bond issue to make Flood Control Zone 6 a reality. It takes a 2/3 majority to approve the bonds.

WHY SHOULD YOU VOTE "YES"?

HERE ARE SOME REASONS:

1. Lack of storm-water drainage is holding back the south end of Alameda County. Few more factories or homes can be built until a drainage system is provided.
2. Zone 6 Bonds will provide that drainage system, properly installed and fenced for protection.
3. The bonds will be sold on a pay-as-you-go basis and taxes will be held below 50c per $100.

IRVINGTON YOUTH CENTER GETS AID FROM LOCAL UNITED CRUSADE DOLLAR

One of a series on the United Crusade's services to Washington Township. The Crusade starts here this week.

Ask any Washington Township "teen-ager" what's the "coolest" spot around and he will no doubt tell you the Irvington Youth Center.

The guys and chicks of Irvington and other towns in the Township get together there every Wednesday night for a "real zorch" time. There's dancing to a juke box, pool, ping-pong, and games of all kinds.

A young Korean veteran named Salvador Galvan is supervisor of the center, and by reports is doing a fine job.

Washington Township Community Chest contributed $300 last year toward the youth center's operations, derived from United Crusade contributions. The center is governed by a board of directors headed by Mrs. George Scammon of Irvington as president. Other directors are: Gus Robertson, Mrs. Alfred Peixoto, Mr. and Mrs. Don Pressley, George Scammon, and Mrs. Earl Mackintosh.

Irvington's Youth Center is the only active evening recreational center for youth in Washington Township. It is open to all Township youngsters, without regard for race or creed. Organized during the war, it has been receiving Community Chest aid for the past three years. Without such aid Mrs. Scammon said, the center could not operate.

Membership at last count was 112 and "growing all the time." The youngsters pay small dues which are used for upkeep of the equipment.

Some of the center's recreation efforts over the past few months have included swimming parties at Elderberry Park and Hidden Valley; hay rides and picnics.

The youthful members elect officers, who meet weekly and plan these activities.

Juke boxes, an electric shuffleboard and other games have been donated by friends of the center.

... WHAT'S NEW AT YOUR LOCAL STORES
By HARRIET GITTINGS

Handsome new arrival at the NEWARK FURNITURE COMPANY is a Dur-oak dining room set. Available with a variety of washable seat cushions, the pieces are made of oak finished in either spiced or limed oak colors. There is even a brunch cart to match the set, for buffet serving around the television.

TOGS FOR TOTS is the name of a newly-opened shop in the Newark Shopping Center, featuring clothes for children up to three years old. Two items of interest to mothers are the Pepperell blanket made of non-allergic fabric; and corduroy jackets, lined pants and creepers to match in attractive pastel shades.

For a low-calorie treat, try a Breeze at MARGE AND LIL'S in the Newark Shopping Center. If counting calories is not necessary, sample a Zorch Cow along with tasty hamburgers.

SLETTEN'S DEPARTMENT STORE in Niles has a wonderful display in sweaters, in all colors and styles, and in wool, nylon or orlon. If you are interested in trivets, the NILES GIFT SHOP has a wide choice on display. (Know what they are?)

PAY FOR GRID PLAY, EXPERT ASKS HERE

A pay scale for college football players was advocated last week before the Niles Rotary Club by S. Dan Brodie of San Leandro, official football historian for the University of California.

Brodie, who has written several books on football, and who is official statistician for the Bears and the S. F. 49-ers, said:

"The youngsters get very little return for the effort they make in becoming a college gridiron star. I believe they should be openly paid for their work, the same as anyone else."

Brodie said he doesn't believe abolition of the platoon system of

KEEP HIGHWAYS CLEAN

Good "car keepers" carry paper bags with them in which to deposit trash that accumulates during a trip. When the bag is full, put it in a convenient roadside receptacle, or take it home to your own trash can. Help keep our highways clean.

substitutions will benefit small colleges. He explained big schools "simply play better football, and that's what the fans want."

Brodie was introduced by C. K. Dennis.

Battery 'C' Outing

Township Guardsmen Spend Day In Sports, Maneuvers at Canyon

National Guardsmen from Washington Township last Sunday took part in a combined work-and-play maneuver near Berkeley.

Some 30 members of Battery C, 629th Field Artillery Battalion, led by Captain J. O. Baudin, spent the day training and in organized athletics in steep Wildcat Canyon, Army reservation.

The battery traveled to and from the site in its new $10,000 2½-ton trucks.

Classes were broken by a steak lunch, then the young "minute-men" soldiers played baseball, volleyball and touch football until time to come home.

C Battery was crowned unofficial volleyball champion of the battalion. The group recently has been working to spruce-up its Alder Avenue armory for an open-house to be held next month.

Recent recruits are: Carl Von Euw, Dan Owen, Manuel Ayala, Doug Mackintosh and Ralph Downing.

Promoted to warrant officer status is the unit administrator, T. E. Splan, who lives next to the armory. A phone has been installed, its number being Centerville 8-2011.

Men between 17 and 35 are eligible to join the Guard, and are draft-exempt if they join before they reach 18½.

John Muir was president of the Sierra Club from 1892 to 1914.
